GOOD SHOWING

Made By Expert Morgan In His Report to Uncle Sam.

Geoffrey Morgan, County Agriculturist, a part of whose salary is paid by the United States Department of Agriculture, has completed the annual report required by the Government. In it he states that he has helped to organize twelve farmers' clubs, one co-operative store, a permanent good roads organization, a permanent poultry association, a county fair, and "good fellows" club to help provide for the poor children of the town and county at Christmas. He states that three limestone crushers have been started during the year, and sales of limestone have increased from 700 tons to 4,000 tons. A reduction in freight of 20 cents a ton on limestone has been secured from the T. C. railroad, and a reduction of 25 cents a ton on coal for South Christian farmers is assured. The price of 16 per cent. acid phosphate has been reduced from $21 a ton to $15.50. During an outbreak of catarrhal fever Mr. Morgan ordered antitoxin at cost and saved the farmers over $2,000, besides saving their mules and horses. The Pennsylvania Fair was built during the year with permanent improvements totaling $20,000. Two pruning and spraying clubs have been organized. Mr. Morgan took part in 108 farmers' meetings during the year, with an attendance of 9,092 people.

Reared in Christian.

Andrew Barkley, aged 53, a native of Christian county, died at Massac, McCracken county, Monday, of tuberculosis. The deceased was the uncle of Congressman Alben Barkley. He moved from this county to Graves about twenty years ago and some years later moved to McCracken. His wife and three sons survive.

Fire at Seebree.

The Seebree Hotel and several adjacent business houses were burned Sunday at a loss of about $40,000, only partly insured.

NEW MACHINE

To Be Installed at The Rex In a Few Days

Manager Shrode returned from Chicago and Indianapolis last Monday. He secured a number of high class attractions while he was gone and they will be sent in regular rotation as soon as previous bookings have been exhausted.

He also bought a new projecting machine, which will be installed in about two weeks. The new machine works automatically, and the usual delays attending the changing of reels are done away with. When a film is put in the machine all that is necessary for the operator to do is to press a button and the machine does the rest. This is the very latest in projectors and since the manufacturers began supplying the movies the demand for them has been in excess of the supply.

Commission Government.

A bill by John C. Duffy, of Hopkinsville, introduced Monday, enables cities of the third class to adopt a commission form of government, and provides that the County Judge, upon application by written petition, signed by 25 per cent. of legal voters, shall direct that an election be held in such city at the next election, and not earlier than sixty days after the petition and application has been filed to determine the sense of the voters of the city on the question, a majority of which shall be considered as a vote in favor of or against the proposition.

Interesting Meeting Held.

The meeting of the Academy of Medicine held Monday night was a very interesting one. Dr. Donnelly's paper on colicystitis was a treat. Three very important cases were reported to the society by Drs. Bell, Harned and Erkiletian. These meetings are growing in importance. Dr. Rudd will be the assayer of the meeting next Monday night. Subject: Erysipelas. Every physician is requested to attend these meetings. D. H. ERKILETIAN, Secretary.

Popular Mechanics Magazine For February.

An unusually broad view of current events, one that takes in not only the advance in various lines, but accidents and disasters as well, is given in the February number of Popular Mechanics Magazine. Big developments have taken place in aviation, but here, as might be expected in view of the fact that more airmen have made flights than ever before in a similar period, the fatalities have been greater than any previous year. As against 140 fatalities in 1912, there were 192 in 1913. A three-page tabulation of these fatalities in 1913, giving the name of the aviator in each case, the place and date of the accident and the type of the machines, appears in this number of the magazine. Advances have been made both in the development of safety devices for airmen and in a continually increasing use of air craft for practical purposes.

The French government is experimenting with the aeroplane as a means for transmitting mail, while in California a dirigible balloon is engaged in regular passenger service. These and other developments in aviation are fully described in the February number of this magazine. The February magazine contains 345 articles and 349 illustrations. In an article entitled "American Sponge Fisheries Worked by Greeks," by Leonora Beck Ellis, many of the details of an important industry, about which the average person knows nothing, are explained and illustrated.
